What makes this program perfect for you?

1. Ph.D. in Quality Management is now redesigned to focus only on quality management with a research dissertation in the candidate area of interest and work experience.
2. This program is more relevant to the advances in theory and practice of quality management.
3. Ph.D. supervisory team is appointed from a cross section of expertise in quality management.
4. The multidisciplinary approach of the program facilitates admission of eligible candidates with different educational degrees and practical experiences.

Mode of Delivery

Synchronous: online live sessions

Allows learners to interact with faculty and get questions answered in real time; thus, you can benefit from the immediate personal engagement with faculty members and fellow candidates.

Asynchronous: online self-paced

Offers more flexibility, allowing you to set your own schedule and work at your own pace. The approach shifts the focus from an instructor-centred to an individualized learner-centric approach.

2 Routes to Get Admitted

1. The direct entry:

This applies to those applicants who hold a bachelor's and master's degree in quality management.
